Dec 09, 2010 (Datamonitor via COMTEX) --

EnviroMission Limited has joined renewable energy developers, Power-One and Abengoa Solar Inc., to commend Arizona Commerce Authority for recommendations aimed at advancing the renewable energy industry in Arizona.

EnviroMission is developing 200MW Solar Tower power station technology in the State of Arizona. The Arizona Commerce Authority's recommendations are a positive step to grow the burgeoning renewable energy industry in Arizona.

"EnviroMission applauds the leadership of Governor Brewer and her staff for recognizing the economic benefits of the solar energy industry. This kind of leadership will help bring Arizona to the forefront; ensuring it enjoys the benefits of job creation both directly and indirectly related to the shift in global energy policy," said EnviroMission (USA), Inc. President, Christopher Davey.
